Executive Summary

The term peace does not only mean the absence of violence, but it also indicates the presence of social, economic, and political justice which is essential for national peace and harmony. Injustices such as poverty, discrimination and unequal access to opportunities exist when peace does not. They are at the root cause of conflict and violent extremism. In Pakistan, South Punjab has become a breeding place for producing fanatic extremists and sectarian prejudices. The unbalanced economic situation, unstable political condition, terrorism, religious fundamental groups, unemployment, lack of health education and uncertain future has very likely affected the lives of youth of in South Punjab.

At present there is a need to strengthen the institutions specially the private schools and illiterate youth about the values and customs of the society which gives the lesson of forgiveness, peace, strong relationship and tolerance as men of courage and equal status to counter the drivers of violence extremism and to counter the narratives the provision of awareness to the youth to reduce the appeal towards extremism and contribute their share to the enrichment of society and establishment of a culture of peace in the country.

So for this purpose, Farmers Development Organization in collaboration with Umeed Jawan has implemented a project of Aman(Peace) Academy in 04 Districts of South Punjab. Challenges

While implementing Peace Academy Project, we had to face some kind of challenges which resolved after mutual planning with fdo and school management. Some major are as given below:

- FDO faced challenged in collecting B.Form /CNIC of illiterate youth because this target youth were under 18 ages and some portion of youth out of school so they did not focus on issuing their B.Form. So FDO had collected CNIC number of their parents where were missing.
- Contact number of literate and illiterate youth was one of the challenges because literate youth was not allowed to keep Cell/Mobile in school premises and parents also not allowed them. Major portion of Illiterate youth were also out of mobile range.
- Due to harvesting season, Youth was engaged in wheat cutting so faced difficulties while registering youth
- Before starting 1st session of Aman Course, some youth refuse to participate in Aman Course session and we had to replace them with willing youth and incorporated in List of youth.
- Due to summer vocations we had to face some challenge in reconnecting youth for this event.
- Due to warm weather it was somehow difficult to manage field activities with Youth
- Due to summer vocations, distributions of IEC material among youth peacemakers become difficult.

Lesson learnt for Organization

Partnership of FDO with Umeed Jawan remained very successful and contributed in the growth of FDO. We found Umeed Jawan team very punctual and efficient in the project implementation phase. FDO gained many things in terms of Peace Manual development, IEC development and level of commitment which gave new ways of thinking to FDO for adoption new practices in thematic area of Peace and tolerance.

Sustainability of the Project

To engage 4 high grade level schools in making 4000 peacemakers and training of 16 school teachers on Aman Course are the major success of this project. Due to increasing alarming situation of uncertainty, terrorism and violent environment in the society, it is utmost necessary to sew the seed of peace among youth because now this segment of population can play their vital role in bringing social harmony, peace and friendship in the society by eliminating the impact of terrorism, uncertainty and violent element in the society.

Now FDO has developed the network of Peacemakers and established Peace academies in 04 districts and these peacemakers and peace academies will continue the mission of Peace Academy and making more and more peacemakers in the society. So in this way, these peacemakers will contribute in overall objective of achieving peaceful Pakistan.
